About the Assessment

The College Board developed the ACCUPLACER Computerized Placement Tests (CPTs), with the help of committees of college faculty, to provide information about your level of skill and accomplishment in reading, writing, English and mathematics. Your college may use the scores you receive and other information that you provide to help determine the English, mathematics, and reading courses most appropriate for you at this time.

There are eight multiple choice computerized placement tests available in the ACCUPLACER program as well as two different writing tests for which you write an essay. Your college will determine which of these tests you should take.

Score Reporting

When you have completed the tests, you may see a report of your scores on the screen and you may receive a printed report of your scores. The type of reporting depends on how your college has set up the testing. When you have completed the testing, follow the instructions of the Test Administrator. Your scores can only be obtained through your college.

You can find out more about how to interpret your scores in the section on "Interpreting Your Scores" in this guide.

It is important that you answer each question to the best of your ability. Scores will be used in part to determine course placement. Failure to do your very best may result in course placements that are too low for your current skill level.

Who Must Take the Test

Your college will let you know if you need to take one or more of the ACCUPLACER tests.

When and Where are the Tests Given

Your college will let you know when and where the tests will be given.

Fees for ACCUPLACER

Your college will notify you if there is a fee for taking ACCUPLACER.

Special Arrangements for Students with Disabilities

If you have a disability or temporarily disabling condition that will prevent you from taking the tests under standard conditions, inform the Test Administrator before taking the test. These requests should be made directly to the Test Administrator at your college. No additional charge should be made for these special arrangements.
What to Take With You to the Tests

On the day of the test, you should be sure to take your student ID number (usually your social security number) and any other special materials or information your college may ask you to bring to the test.

When you arrive to take the assessment, the Test Administrator will ask you to provide photo identification. You will then be seated to take the assessment on a computer.

Testing Regulations

Before taking the tests you will be asked to confirm that you have read the testing regulations and that you agree to comply with them. Take a look at the Testing Rules and Conditions that are included at the end of this Student Guide.

Confidentiality

Your test scores and the information you provide when taking the tests will only be provided to The College Board, to the college at which you are taking the tests or at which you are enrolled, and to the state to meet state information requirements. The information may be used for counseling, advisement and placement purposes and may be used to document whether or not you have met state testing requirements. The College Board may also use it for research and training purposes. Your test information will not be disclosed for any other purpose without your permission. If you have any questions about confidentiality, please see your Test Administrator.

Tutorial

If you are not comfortable using a computer keyboard or mouse, you may want to take the tutorial available on the Internet at http://www.collegeboard.org. Ask a friend or advisor to help you. If you do not have access to a computer, find out if there is a computer with an Internet connection available on campus that you can use.

Computer Delivered Testing

You will take the tests using a computer. You will use either the keyboard or the mouse to enter your answers, write your essay, and supply other information. A Test Administrator will always be present should you have any questions or problems. The Test Administrator has the ability to resolve any difficulties that may occur.
The Multiple Choice Tests

Answering the Questions

Because you take the ACCUPLACER® tests on a computer, you do not have to answer as many questions as on traditional paper-and-pencil tests. The number of questions on the eight tests ranges from 12-25. The questions appear one at a time on the computer screen. Since most questions are multiple choice, all you will need to do is use the Enter key or mouse to select an answer. When you have completed the question and confirmed your answer, a new screen will appear with your next question.

Adaptive Testing

Each test is adaptive. This means that the computer automatically determines which questions are presented to you based on your responses to prior questions. This technique selects just the right questions to ask without being too easy or too difficult.

Each test is untimed so that you can give each question as much thought as you wish. However, once you have selected and confirmed your answer, you cannot return to that question.

Taking the Tests

Providing your background information

You will be asked to enter some background information such as ID number (use Social Security number), name and address. The background information screen is illustrated below.
Taking the Multiple Choice Tests

After filling in the background information questions, click Continue. You will then see the first page of the first test you are taking.
Click Continue, and you will see a sample question.

Here is a sample question. Solve the following problem. You may use the paper you have been given for scratchwork.

\[2x + 3x + y =\]
- \(6x\)
- \(5x + y\)
- \(5(x + y)\)
- \(6x + y\)

The correct answer is \(5x + y\).

Note: The test will begin on the next screen.
After you have read the directions and reviewed the sample questions, select the "Continue" button and take the actual test. This page is illustrated below.

Test Format

ACCUPLACER Online presents one question at a time. Each page presents the question and several possible answer choices. The page may also include additional information that is needed to answer the question such as a reading passage, picture or table of information. This page is illustrated below.

Read the statement or passage and then choose the best answer to the question. Answer the question on the basis of what is stated or implied in the statement or passage.

Scientists have yet to create an effective shark-repellent. In the 1970s a fish, the Mosas sole, was found to exude a substance that repels some shark species. However, the substance, pardoxin, is difficult and costly to synthesize; also, it quickly deteriorates and is not as powerful as might be desired.

The last sentence suggests that

- pardoxin might be less promising than was first believed
- scientific research is plagued by inadequate funding
- pardoxin could have unforeseen side effects
- scientists were mistaken about the actual source of pardoxin

Choosing an Answer

To select an answer, use the mouse to move the arrow pointer to the circle button next to the answer you wish to choose and click on the button. The circle will then be filled indicating that this is the answer you have chosen. Click on the next button to move on. A box will come up on the screen asking you to confirm your answer or giving you the opportunity to cancel and go back and choose a different answer. If you wish to confirm, simply click on OK, if you want to cancel and go back and choose a different answer click on cancel and select a new answer.
You can also use the keyboard to select an answer. Using the Tab button, highlight the answer you wish to select and press the Enter key. A box will come up on the screen asking you to confirm your answer or giving you the opportunity to cancel and go back to choose a different answer. If you wish to confirm, simply press enter, if you want to cancel and go back and choose another answer press the tab button once then press Enter.

Guessing

ACCUPLACER® is an adaptive test. This means that the questions are chosen for you on the basis of your answers to previous questions. Because the test works this way, you must answer every question when it is first given. You can change your answer to a particular question before moving on to the next question, but you cannot leave a question out or come back to it later to change your answer. Once you go on to the next question, you cannot return to the question.

If you do not know the answer to a question, try to eliminate one or more of the choices. Then pick from the remaining choices.

At the end of the test

At the end of the test, you will either see a page indicating that you have completed all the testing or one indicating the test that you have just completed followed by the next test you will take.
Descriptions of the Tests

SENTENCE SKILLS TEST

This test measures your understanding of sentence structure -- how sentences are put together and what makes a sentence complete and clear.

Before you begin there will be two sample questions with the correct answers indicated. In some questions you will be asked to select the best version of the underlined part of the sentence. *creativity and mass-production are incompatible most people do not appreciate good art

pottery is not produced by creative artists

The correct answer is creativity and mass-production are incompatible.

The author of the passage implies that creativity and mass-production are incompatible.

In other questions, two underlined sentences are followed by a question or statement. Read the sentences, then choose the best answer to the question or the best completion of the statement.

Interpreting Your Scores

The Multiple Choice Tests

Some colleges provide students with a copy their Individual Score Report. If so, you will see several pieces of information for each test you completed.

- Total Right Score- The total right score shows how many of the questions you could expect to answer correctly if you took a test made up of 120 questions. Any test score is an estimate.

- SEM- The range tells you how accurate your score is. If you took the test a second time you could expect your new score to fall somewhere within the range shown.

- Percentile Rank- The percentile rank compares your score with the scores of typical students entering college who completed tests composed of similar questions. For example, a percentile rank of 70 means that your score is higher than those of 70 percent of the students who completed the test.

Your report may also contain a list of the courses in which you may be placed. Your college will provide specific instructions about these course placements.
